MORE INJURED EXPECTED AS SHIPS LIMP IN

New York Hospitals Have Scores of Storm Victims From Vessels

Hundred Mile Gale Whips Atlantic Shipping and Damage Great

New York, Aug. 28.—Nine more trans-Atlantic liners, tossed by winds that blew more than 100 miles an hour, and buffeted by waves that swept their decks eighty feet high are expected in port today with the same tales of horror and lists of injured aboard as the five badly smashed liners that made port late yesterday.

The weather bureau has also issued another warning that tropical disturbances are occurring in the West Indies and moving westward.

Scores of homecoming Americans are in New York hospitals and one hundred more have been treated by doctors or at hospitals as a result of the terrific gale that lashed the Atlantic into a fury on Tuesday night and caused five trans-Atlantic liners to limp into port late yesterday and last night with heavy lists of injured on board.

The White Star liner Arabic, battered badly by the hurricane-tossed seas, suffered the most and when she dropped anchor at Quarantine with life boats and rafts smashed, long sections of rail broken and much gear on deck carried away, seventy-five passengers were stretched out in her cabins and on mattresses on the upper decks awaiting medical attention.

Eight were rushed to hospitals with serious injuries, and many others suffered broken bones and bad lacerations as a result of being tossed and thrown about the decks and in their cabins by the mountainous seas that at one time almost caused the great liner to founder.

The White Star liner Homeric also made port with seven injured aboard, just behind the Arabic. The Munson Munago liner had one man with a broken knee cap, and the Italian liner Giuseppe Verdi had three injured aboard, among them A. L. Mohler, retired railway official.

Captain J. Madison, master of the steamer Nordfarer, was washed overboard while the vessel was enroute to New York from South American ports, according to a radio message received today.

The list of injured on the Arabic also included:

Miss A. C. Pfenback, Toledo, lacerations of the face and injured arm. Mrs. M. R. Andrew, Cleveland, Ohio. Among the injured on board the Homeric were Dr. H. Wells, Pittsburgh, fractured hip; Thomas G. Aston, Philadelphia and Miss Mary Ransom, Cleveland, Ohio.

HAS ENDORSEMENT OF ALL PARTIES

Washington, Aug. 28.—Congressman E. Campbell of Pittsburgh, who is seeking his fifth term in congress, has no opposition. He was nominated by the Republicans, by the Democrats, by the Progressives and by the Socialists. He was first elected to the Sixty-fifth congress, running as a Democrat and a Roosevelt Progressive, by a plurality of 46. Two years later his majority was 17,556. Since then he has gotten three times the unanimous nomination of all parties. His district embraces a part of Allegheny county's industrial district and a part of Pittsburgh's choice residential section, thereby making his constituency a fair cross section of the various types of people living in Pittsburgh.

YOUNG LOVERS DIE IN SUICIDE PACT

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 28.—Two youthful lovers are believed to have been in a suicide compact, which was carried out to the letter, at Wymore, this state. The bodies of Charles Cleary, 16, and Bessie Nemic, 15, were found near the Wymore park, clasped in each other's arms. Bullet holes pierced their heads. A revolver was still clasped in young Cleary's right hand. Authorities are convinced the double tragedy was the result of a suicide pact.

QUARANTINE AREA AGAIN EXTENDED IN CORN BORER WAR

Cleveland, Aug. 28.—The quarantine area against the European corn borer has again been extended in northern Ohio.

It now includes Seneca, Summit and Huron counties and parts of Medina, Portage and Trumbull counties. The army of highway inspectors operating from highway stations to prevent transportation of corn will be moved down to the new battle line by the end of the week.

E. G. Brewer, administrative officer in charge of the corn borer control in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan, admitted here that the prospect of stopping the spread is hopeless until entomologists have developed some method of control.

Hopes of stamping out the pest now are pinned to a wasp, existeris rorator, the larvae of which feed upon the body of the borer. Until existeris proves its ability to wipe out the pest, strict enforcement of the quarantine is depended upon to make the spread of infestation as slow as possible. Seventy thousand of the wasps were liberated in Lucas, Erie and Ashtabula counties early in June. If they survive the northern Ohio winter they may within the next few years wipe the borer out of existence.

The loss to farmers from the depredations of borers in Ohio has been slight, Mr. Brewer said, because the infestation has not yet become heavy enough to be a commercial menace.

PRISONERS KILLED IN BOOZE BLAST

Detroit, Aug. 28.—Two prisoners lost their lives and fourteen others were injured when confiscated liquor stored near the cell block in the Vinewood avenue police station exploded. Smoke and flames cut off the prisoners from all hope of rescue until the fire department arrived. Officers tried to get into the cell block but were driven back and forced to wait for the firemen. At least two of the injured are not expected to live. The liquor was stored in a room just off the entrance to the cell block.

CAPTAIN AND CREW LOST AS VESSEL SINKS

Schooner Goes Down With All on Board—Many Ships Overdue

Wreckage of Ships Strews Coast North to Nova Scotia

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 28.—With sections of the Nova Scotian coast strewn with wreckage of storm damaged ships there were strong indications today of the gale which for two days swept the Atlantic had cost a heavy toll in human life.

Captain Miller and his crew of five men are believed to have lost their lives when their schooner, the Prince Edward Island, crashed on the rocks at Kitty Witty Shoals, twenty miles west of Halifax. Fragments of the Prince Edward Island's jolly boat have been picked up. The schooner enroute from New York, was laden with coal.

A number of ships were reported overdue.

The crew of one vessel was rescued off Canso as it was sinking.

The schooner Julia F. C. of Cape Breton, is helpless off the coast.

Portions of the schooner Anna MacDonald have been washed ashore, but the fate of her crew is unknown.

The Chinese junk Shanghai, bound from Norway to New York, was driven upon White Point shoals off Canso. All on board had a miraculous escape. They included DeWitt Wells, former municipal judge in New York City, Jay Wells, a son of DeWitt, Chandler Chapman, a cousin of the judge, and two Norwegian seamen.

The gale stripped the vessel of her sails and the anchor failed to hold. At 5 o'clock in the morning, while huge waves were breaking over the ship and no rescue was in sight, Aske Bryndessen, one of the Norwegian sailors, tied a line to his waist and sprang overboard. He reached shore in safety, hauled a heavier line to land, and with this all the others on board managed to save themselves. The Shanghai has gone to pieces. She was following the old Viking trail through the North Atlantic when she met her doom.

The storm began Tuesday night, coast ports claiming it was the most severe summer gale within fifty years. The sea ran as high as it ever did during a winter gale off the Grand Banks. Huge waves rolled inland, breaking against a headland swell.

One man was drowned at Yarmouth and the schooner Lizzie F. was driven ashore.

The coast wise steamer, Aspey, with seventy persons on board, was wrecked at Nell's Harbor, but all on board were saved.

BLOWS EXCHANGED IN REICHSTAG OVER DAWES PLAN DEBATE

Berlin, Aug. 28.—Blows were exchanged in the reichstag during debate on the Dawes plan for making the London agreement effective.

The clash grew out of a motion by the fascist deputies for general amnesty following a communist proposal to allow imprisoned deputies to vote on the Dawes plan. There was general fighting for several minutes. One deputy was knocked down and trampled and carried bleeding from the parliament hall.

The chairman was about to pass the amnesty motion by acclamation when Democratic Deputy Brodauf and the Communist, Maslovski, became enraged and started shaking fists at one another.

The communist started toward Brodauf and immediately the session was in an uproar. Deputies shouted and battered away at one another. The chairman at this point suspended the session. Disorders broke out anew at a later session of the reichstag and for the first time in the history of the German parliament police were called in and forcibly ejected three communists.

TRADE OUTLOOK IS PROMISING SAY OFFICIALS

Hoover Believes Business Depression is Now passing

Washington, Aug. 28.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover and other government officials declare the business outlook in the United States is promising. They say the depression which marked trade conditions is passing.

Secretary Hoover has returned to his desk here after a visit to the west. He said he did not believe that acceptance of the Dawes plan and restoration of stability in Europe will build up Germany at the expense of the United States. He is of the opinion that a stabilized European continent will intensify competition in many industries, but on the other hand settlement of the problems which have depressed Europe economically since the war will be accompanied by an expansion of consumption. This, the secretary believes, will be manifested by an immediate increased demand for certain American products, particularly those of agriculture, and chiefly meat products, because the first step in an improved standard of living is a greater consumption of animal rather than cereal products.

Government officials expressed the hope that sufficient restraint will be exercised in the coming days of possible speculation and inflation to keep business on a sound basis, and avoid the dangers into which industry, agriculture and the country as a whole fell after the boom of 1920. All indications during the past month have hinted that the United States is on the threshold of another epoch of prosperity.

MARINES SENT TO CHINA TO PROTECT AMERICANS THERE

The commandant of the Marine Corps was called upon by the navy to furnish a list of all Marines available in the far east for service in China.

The Navy Department at noon received no reports on the landing of Marines at Shanghai, although it was pointed out that American naval officers in China would have authority to take this step if they deemed it necessary.

DAVIS TO NAME CAMPAIGN HEAD WITHIN WEEK

State Plans Aired at Republican Committee Meeting

Columbus, Aug. 28.—At a meeting of the subcommittee of the Republican state central committee and Harry L. Davis, Republican gubernatorial candidate, and other elective state officers here, preliminary plans for organizing for the coming campaign were given an airing.

It was decided that Davis should recommend a chairman for the campaign committee and this choice is almost certain to be final with the committee. The former governor said his announcement would be forthcoming within a few days.

The Republican state central committee of 22 will select 22 women from the respective districts to act on the central committee, with power equal to that held by the men who were elected. Another committee of 88 men and 88 women, one of each coming from each county, will be selected as an advisory committee to the central committee. A campaign committee of seven members will also be chosen to act as a central planning body for the campaign.

Secretary of State Thad H. Brown has just announced the official count of the recent statewide primary and it shows that Joseph A. Sieber nosed out James A. White for second place in the contest for the Republican nomination for governor. Sieber's plurality over White was approximately 3,000.

The count also reveals that less than one Republican out of every three who voted at the primary preferred Harry L. Davis for the gubernatorial nomination, yet he landed it with a plurality of 74,888 over his nearest opponent, Sieber.

The official Republican vote for governor gives Burke 47,813, Cable 26,721, Davis 176,297, Durand 51,829, Harris 39,183, Sieber 101,509, Smith 15,727, White 98,439.

WOMAN CONFESSES COMPLICITY IN BIG JEWEL ROBBERY

New York, Aug. 28.—Dorothy Kelley, who said she was an actress, confessed today, according to police, that she, her husband, James Burns, chauffeur, and Harry Chance, 21, chauffeur, looted the Maiden Lane jewelry establishment of Feldenheimer and Jacoby last Friday of $100,000 in unset stones. The gaudy police said she told them, were disposed of for $6,000, of which was spent by the trio on a good time. The two men were arrested, but denied any part of the robbery, despite $4,250 found in the girl's handbag. The girl told police, they said, that she acted as lookout.

CURTAIN FALLS ON FIRST ACT OF FRANKS TRAGEDY

Next Act in Loeb-Leopold Tragedy Will Be Solo Part by Judge Caverly—His Decision is Expected Within Ten Days

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 28.—Argument in the trial of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb for the murder of little Bobby Franks was concluded at 11:30 o'clock, with State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, making a dramatic last minute appeal for the death penalty for the two young slayers.

The State's Attorney's final plea was that Judge John R. Caverly send them to the gallows in order that "justice and decency and regard for the law" might continue to prevail in the state of Illinois.

Upon conclusion of argument in the murder case, the state began to wind up the famous trial by submission of evidence in the kidnapping case against the two boys. Both kidnapping and murder are capital crimes in Illinois.

The kidnapping case was more of a formality than anything else, merely to round out the state's case against Loeb and Leopold in two crimes, either of which can result in the noose. At the conclusion of Crowe's argument Judge Caverly continued the case until September 10, when his decision is expected.

ENGINEER MARTYR SAVES PASSENGERS

Athens, O., Aug. 28.—Engineer Harry Sergeant, 47, saved the lives of 50 passengers on train No. 6, Toledo to Charleston, W. Va., but lost his own life by sticking to his post when the tender of his engine jumped the track near Milfield. Fireman Peter Kline, who jumped, was badly injured. Several hundred feet from where the tender left the rails, the locomotive ran into a switch, left the rails, leaped into the air, and landed upside down and with ends reversed, in the ditch along the right of way. The train's speed had been so reduced, however, that none of the coaches turned over, and only one, besides the baggage car, left the rails.

SCHOOL CHILDREN TO BE VACCINATED

Columbus, Aug. 28.—All local children must have been successfully vaccinated before they can enroll in school next Tuesday or must bring statements from the family physician to the effect that the condition of the child's health makes vaccination inadvisable, according to a statement made by Dr. H. M. Platter, school physician. This order does not apply to children who have been previously successfully vaccinated. The recent experience of Detroit, Cleveland and Toledo with smallpox is pointed to by Dr. Platter as ample reason for compulsory vaccination. The state department of health, the city department of health and the school medical department endorsed this recommendation.

Vertical Flying Solved.

Dayton, O., Aug. 28.—An electrical propelled helicopter model, tested here, was asserted by experts to have practically solved the problem of vertical flying. The inventor, John C. Newell of Chicago, and L. L. Custer, builder and official timer, witnessed the test. The model, which is built on gyroscopic principles, rose after the wings had revolved for seven and two-fifths seconds and stayed close to the ceiling as long as the current was maintained.

No Agreement Reached.

Pomeroy, O., Aug. 28.—Miners and operators of the Pomeroy bend, in session at Minersville a week to try to reach an agreement, have adjourned until Sept. 2.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—The curtain began to fall today on the first act of the Leopold-Leob drama. By night fall, it is expected the fate of the two youths who kidnapped and killed little Bobby Franks "just for a thrill" will be placed in the hands of Judge John R. Caverly, the phlegmatic jurist, who, for six weeks, has listened to the unfolding of the most amazing crime of modern criminology.

The first act took six weeks, but the second will take only a fraction of that time. It will come in about ten days or two weeks when, after digesting the thousands of pages of evidence in the case and weighing all the "mitigating" and aggravating circumstances, Judge Caverly again mounts the high bench to say whether the young slayers shall be hanged or spend the rest of their lives in prison as society's price for their thrill. How many more acts there will be to the lawyers—and Judge Caverly's decision—can tell. If he decides that Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb should merely go to prison instead of to the gallows, there will be no more acts. The show is ended. For the state has no appeal from his decision. And a life sentence is what the defense wants.

If, however, he decides on the gallows, as most of those who daily throw his courtroom beliefs, there may be many more acts to play out. The defense will not rest on a hanging verdict. That much is certain. An appeal to the supreme court of Illinois for a sanity commission and ultimately if necessary, an appeal for executive clemency from the Governor at Springfield, are among the future possibilities should Caverly "give 'em the rope," as they say in the Cook County jail.

Judge Caverly is going to shut himself up almost like a jury as he ponders the fate of "Dicky" and "Babe," he said today.

"I will give myself plenty of time, ten days at least, perhaps longer," he told reporters. "I will not allow myself to be interfered with and any one who attempts it, whatever and whoever it may be, will be arrested and held for contempt of court. 'I am going to read the evidence and then I am going away to some quiet place and write my decision. I do not think it will be a long one.'

Chicago, Aug. 28.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe charged in his argument before Chief Justice Caverly that the "mental disease" defense in the Leopold-Leob murder hearing is a fiction advanced to save Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb from the gallows.

The state's attorney assailed Dr. William A. White, psychiatrist of Washington, one of the leading alienists for the defense. "If these boys are suffering from a mental disease, why didn't they give it a name?" asked Crowe. Crowe said "the mental disease would disappear very rapidly if the cause for its existence were removed." "If the state had not fastened the crime on these boys, Leopold would be enjoying himself in the gay capitals of Europe, on the $5,000 he had wrung from Jacob Franks," Crowe cried.

Crowe attacked the "honesty" of the entire defense. Witnesses were placed on the stand to testify to fainting spells by Loeb, so that alienists could be placed on the stand to build up a defense of mental disease, Crowe said. "I contend that this is not an honest defense," Crowe stated. "They are just a couple of rats with no other way of escape, so they plead an insanity defense."

Crowe took the medical report, which was prepared by Dr. Harold S. Hulbert and Dr. Carl Bowman, of Boston's defense alienists, and showed what he considered discrepancies between this written report and the testimony of Dr. Hulbert from the witness stand.

The state's attorney pointed to a passage in the report which said young Loeb rarely had dry dreams. Defense testimony indicated he was a habitual day dreamer. Another passage said Loeb read good literature, including Dickens and Thackeray. Many defense witnesses testified Loeb spent much of his time reading detective stories. Points such as these Crowe pointed to in a strenuous effort to destroy the "mental disease" defense of the young slayers.

Members of the Leopold and Loeb families schooled Nathan and Richard in what to say and what not to say, and then called in the doctors to examine them, Crowe charged.

Referring to the contention of Dr. White the boys could not lie to him, Crowe said sarcastically: "There is no doubt that the boys lied, even as the doctors lied to you honor and withheld information." Crowe said, "All this is perjury, pure and simple; perjury with a purpose." Crowe shouted.

Jacob Franks, father of the murdered boy, declared he was opposed to capital punishment, adding: "I feel I have no right to interfere in this case one way or the other. I am not really interested in the outcome of this case, since there is no chance that they will be at large. Whatever Judge Caverly decides is the proper punishment will satisfy me."

ORPHANS GUESTS OF EAGLES AND REISS SHOWS WEDNESDAY

With the grand finale only two days away, interest is increasing in the closing night of the mid-summer festival being given at Reserve Park by the Nat Reiss Shows under the auspices of eXnia Eagles.

The "most popular girl" contest will close Saturday night, at which time prizes, each a handsome diamond ring, the winners of the first and second will be made known and the gifts awarded. Contestants are now working at a feverish heat to be in on the prizes Saturday.

At the same time someone will be presented with a Chevrolet touring car by the Xenia Aerie of Eagles, the car being a feature of the popularity contest which will be presented outright to some contributor before the company leaves. In the meantime the "traveling large crowd" is attracting large crowds and in spite of threatening weather Wednesday night, the grounds were crowded.

Showmen, always the most generous hearted professional people, demonstrated their charitable natures Wednesday afternoon when they braved the extreme heat to don make-ups and go through their stunts for about 300 orphans of the county. Xenia Eagles fathered the invitation Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home extended to the pupils of the Ohio and the County Children's Home to attend the shows during the afternoon.

Officials of the company took the children on a tour of the midway and admitted them to every show on the grounds, where performers went through their "stunts" the same as if the audience had paid its admission. Superintendent Sylvius Garver of the O. S. and S. O. Home was in charge of the state wards and Superintendent James Sowards in charge of the county children. There were 250 children from the state institution and more than forty from the county home. Both Mr. Garver and Mr. Sowards expressed their appreciation of the invitation extended by the show officials and Eagles as the children enjoyed themselves immensely. Showmen and Eagles divided the expense of providing all their little visitors with ice cream cones, cracker-jack and lemonade.

The high quality of entertainment offered by the Nat Reiss Shows made it possible to admit the children to all attractions as none of the side shows offer anything offensive. The Showman's Legislative Committee of America, which regulates the traveling parks, has barred all this type of attractions, and members of the league, of which the Nat Reiss Company is one, have banded together to remove all objectionable features of the old time carnival.

Harry Melville, who, with Mrs. Melville owns and manages the Nat Reiss Shows, is particularly careful to maintain a high moral tone for his shows. His home is at Streator, Ill., where he is a member of the Kiwanis Club. Wednesday Mr. Melville received a visit from T. A. Wolfe, whose shows are being exhibited in Dayton this week, and who is also a member of the league which has cleaned up the traveling tent show business.

With the week half-over, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights are expected to be greeted by even more interest in the productions from which the Eagles' athletic fund will benefit this week.

Miss Mabel Milburn was in the lead in the popularity contest Thursday with 7,510 votes. The standing:

Mabel Milburn	7,510
Selma Goodman	7,330
Mary McFadden	7,020
Mildred Mason	6,880
Mary Shoemaker	6,810
Bertha Hyman	6,770
Mary Sutton	6,430
Mabel McCoy	5,920
Irma Hunt	4,390
Leontine Jenks	3,330

The contest closes Saturday, August 30, at 10 o'clock. All Eagles are requested to return books at 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, at the show grounds. The show will close by giving away the Chevrolet touring car at 11 o'clock.

A woman's appearance is so vitally affected by her millinery—and her satisfaction so dependent on style and quality that these are things on which we place the most emphasis.

The "Greene County" farm, consisting of 117.74 acres of land, 28.78 of which is in Clinton County and the remainder in Greene County, was sold in two tracts. The first tract of 103.50 acres, which includes the Clinton County land, had been appraised at $90 an acre. It sold for $70 an acre, or $7,245 for the tract. The second tract of 14.25 acres, which was appraised at $88.66 2/3 per acre, sold for $68 per acre, or $9,683.22. Both tracts, were purchased by Simon DeVoe, for a total sum of $8,213.32.

SELLS FLOTO TO HAVE NEW FEATURES HERE SATURDAY

All of the kiddies and young folks are getting more and more excited as the time grows shorter for circus day in Xenia and are putting on their best behavior in expectation of seeing the second greatest circus in the business, the Sells-Floto circus which is performing here Saturday, August 30, at Washington Park.

The circus has many added features this year among which is the lyrical spectacle entitled "The Bride and the Beast", a wild animal exhibition, the bevy of pretty girls, countless wild animals, the nineteen elephants, the thrilling acrobatic stunts and every form of thrill and curiosity included in a circus.

The parade in the downtown district in the morning is one of the biggest features of the circus, as Sells-Floto is the only large circus in the business that maintains the street parade as a feature of the show. The parade is blocks long and is the largest in the world.

Immediately after the parade many free acts will be offered on the grounds heralding the open-house mes will announce to patrons the many freaks and curiosities of the side shows and the bally-tad that may be seen for a small fee.

The circus will come to Xenia direct from Circleville over the Pennsylvania lines and will arrive in Xenia at about 11 o'clock Friday morning to begin unloading at the yards.

KINGS STILL POPULAR IN ALMOST KINGLESS WORLD

The embarkation of the Prince of Wales for his American trip made the best story out of London and his goings and comings en tour are to be the big news events of the coming weeks in the press of America. In the press of the world for that matter.

The rush of the young women homeward-bound to be on the same boat with the Prince lends a pretty glamour of romance to the tale. Young Wales is a likable fellow and makes friends wherever he goes. The young women are entirely excusable for the feminine desire to sail along overseas somewhere within the penumbra of such a captivating personality.

In a world growing gradually kingless, the kings are holding their own remarkably well. In America, the original stamping ground of democracy, where it was once the popular sport to eat 'em alive, figuratively and oratorically speaking, kings and sons of kings and even the shadows of kings are doing rather better than anywhere else.

Democracy made out a pretty strong case against kings. Thomas Jefferson was the first American to put over a line of talk that really shattered both the king idea and the kingly reputation. From that day to this patriotic and party speeches have fairly lived and grown fat on the repudiation of everything from kings down to the "powers that prey." Autocracy and plutocracy and aristocracy and all the other oracles have been our chief bogeys.

And yet we certainly do love a king and somewhere in the general heart remains a large area of generous warmth and welcome for everything kingly and aristocratic and autocratic and even plutocratic.

GUESSING AT FARM PROFITS

The Department of Agriculture finds that the wage of the farmer, always low, has been far below normal since 1920. At that time the return on all capital invested in farming was estimated at 6.2 per cent. A year later it reached the vanishing point. Last year it came back to 3.1 per cent.

These findings bear out in a general way the impression that American farming has been in a slump for four years, but is slowly recovering. As a matter of fact, figures of this kind cannot be taken as much more than a painstaking guess. There is no calling that is so difficult to appraise by the usual bookkeeping methods as farming. The farmhouse is a home as well as a business office. The work that the farmer does cannot be appraised as can the day's work of another man. His day's work makes his farm a better farm and has a cumulative value from year to year.

Rarely are the foodstuffs grown and consumed on the farm taken into account in these "agricultural valuations." Nor is house rental or its equivalent considered as an offset. If the farmer paid much attention to these elaborate figurings or took them at face value he would have been frightened off the farm a generation ago.—Public Ledger.

A FUNNY DISARMED NATION

Germany is supposed to be disarmed to a degree that makes her impotent as a military factor. The Allies were careful to insist upon this at Versailles and France has never ceased to insist upon it. An American reserve officer points out that Germany has 1.64 soldiers per 1000 of population. Our present ratio of 1.24 soldiers per 1000 population is actually less than that of a nation supposedly disarmed and militarily helpless. Ours is by far the weakest army maintained by any of the first class powers of the world and is smaller than that of third and fourth rate nations. Ours is the smallest standing army in proportion to population of any of the half-hundred recognized nations of the world. Whether the clamor against "National Defense Day" rises or subsides as September 12 approaches, these are facts, and facts are stubborn things in world that is a long way from "outlawing war."

APPEALING TO THE SOUTH

The LaFollettists insist they have very little money. They are anxiously soliciting funds in labor and other circles. Their headquarters say that the need is very great and will be hard to meet. That being the case, it is hard to understand why they are aiming at the "Solid South" and are setting up a more or less expensive regional headquarters at Birmingham or possible at Atlanta. There would seem to be other areas where the money and the speakers of the South could be used to better effect. There are a good many reasons why they may be wasting both money and energy as a generation of Republican strategists could tell them. The main reason, however, is not the traditional Democracy of the South. It can be found by a casual scanning of the elements that LaFollette has gathered around him in the last six months. These include more than one capable of alienating the South from LaFollette and all his works and ways.

THE STATE OF YOUR HOUSE
Suppose it were said to you: "Man, you may dwell here, This house you may keep if you'll guard all things well here; See that no servant steals the fruit of the garden. You may do what you will, but one thing I'll not pardon: With laws and restrictions I'll not bind you tightly. Save one, against thieves you must lock the doors nightly." "All the charm of the house you may take for your pleasure. You may work as you choose and may play at your leisure; All that I ask is to have the floors swept up, well your servants and have the place kept up; Don't trust to others; don't view wrong too lightly. Guard it from evil and lock the doors nightly."

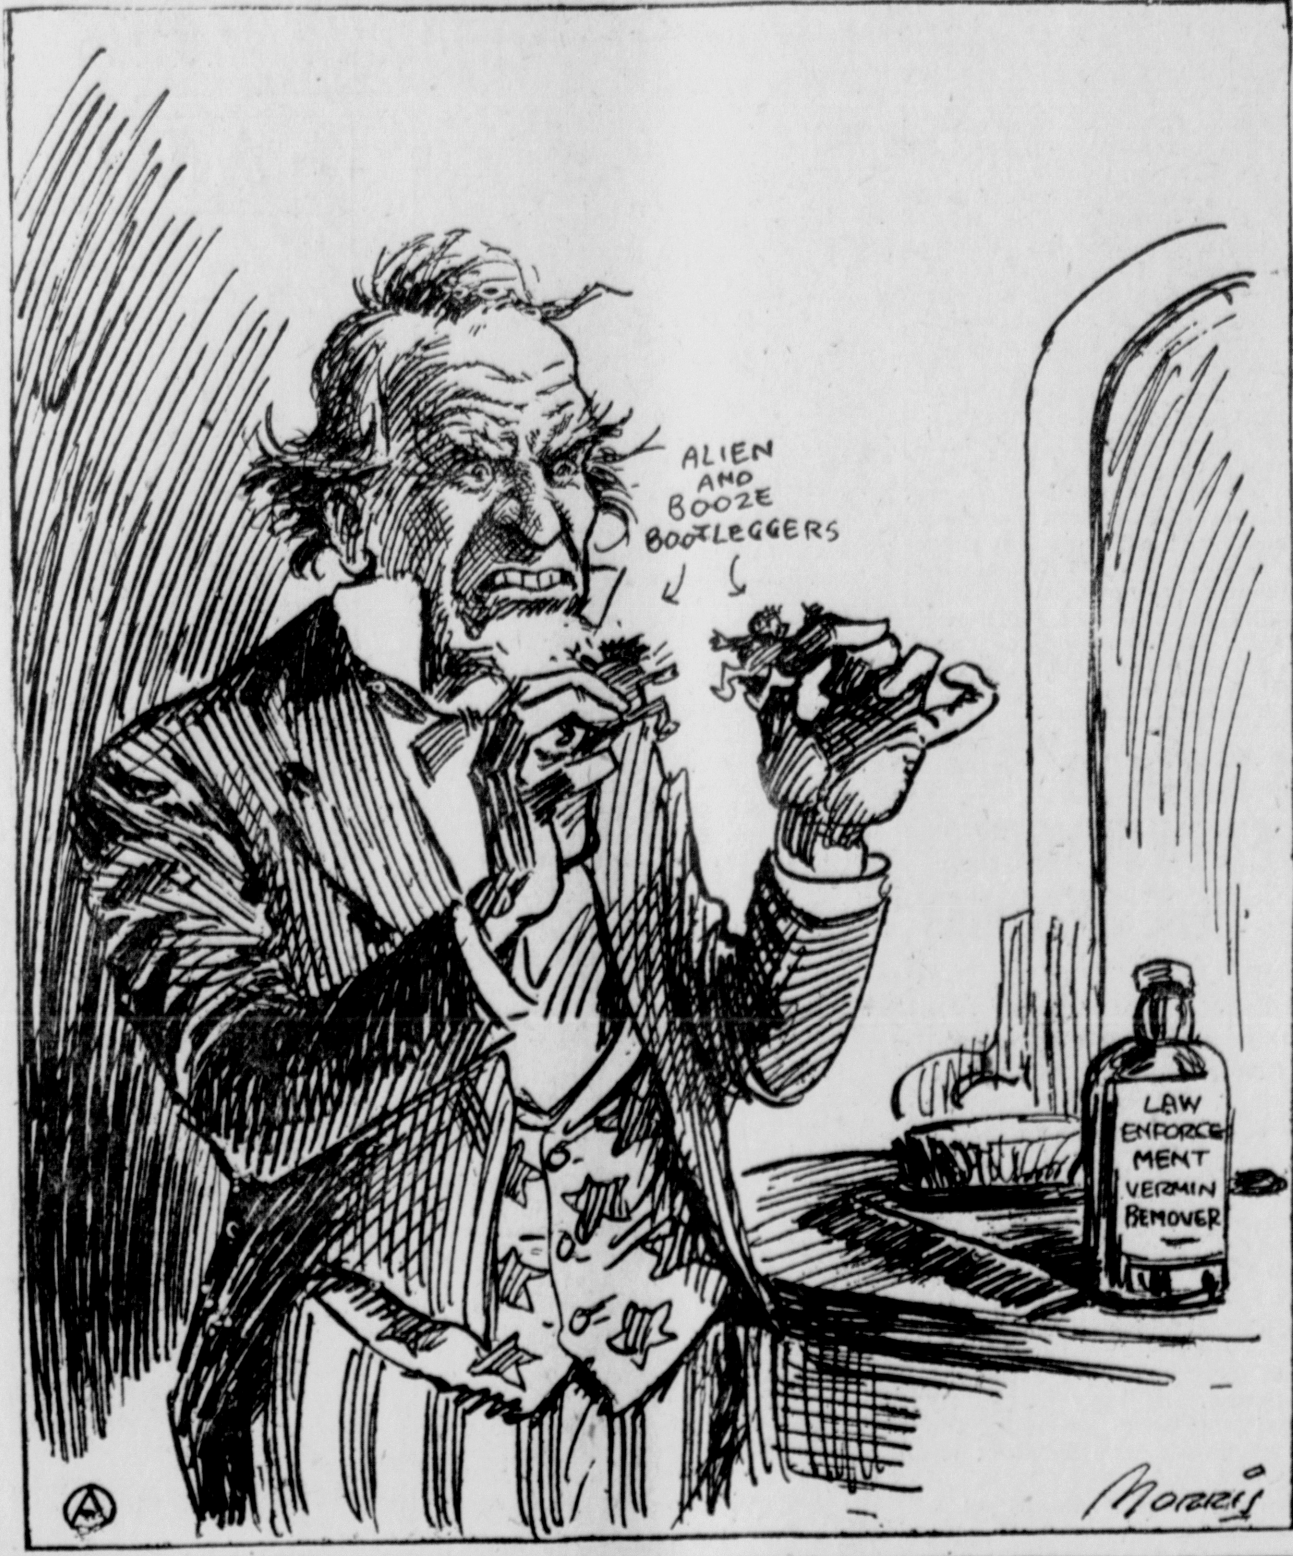

What do you fancy in such circumstances? Would be your attitude? Would you take chances? Would you hire servants you knew could be trusted? Or take whomever upon you was thrust? Would you, I wonder, lie down to sleep, nightly, Without making sure that each door was locked tightly? Well, this is your house, this great ganization.

country we boast of. Your house to cherish and thus make the most of; Yet when its servants are chosen, I wonder Do you take care to pick men who won't blunder? Are you on guard ever watchfully noting The state of your house, or too busy for voting.

Today's Talks

ON GETTING USED TO THINGS

Nothing in this world remains permanently the same. All is change. Every second the beauty of the sunset enlarges or lessens until it is entirely gone and dusk remains. Every morning you look into your mirror you see an older, perhaps wiser, surely a changed face. There is something there that was absent the day before. The change is ever so slight, but it is there. If you close your eyes you will see the picture of what you remember yourself to be—long ago.

We are travelers to a destination we know not of. Today may come an experience that may put a radical cast to your entire life and which may lift it out of a great inactivity.

Perhaps a great sorrow, a deep disappointment—an utter failure that may seem to you to be the end of all hope or aspiration.

But there will come a time when you will get used to that which tore your heart or faith or your simple trust.

After a man goes so far that he feels all adequateness has gone, God steps up and whispers to him, and his tears are wiped away. His countenance blooms in a wreath of smiles; his foot is sure and forward.

In time you will get used to things—all things.

No matter how stricken we may be the hour strikes when we understand afresh, when we are clothed in vision and we walk on stars.

The Great Wisdom has made it so. Learn to "never mind." Remember that you can get used to things. And when you do, you smooth the rough surfaces of your character and that much more become a man and a complete human being.

We are specially appointed De Laval Service Agents, and it is our business and desire to make every De Laval Separator give the perfect service of which it is capable.

We have a specially prepared place for doing such work, and we can certainly do it better and at much less cost if you bring your De Laval to us than if you wait until you are up against it and ask us to come out to your place.

A De Laval Separator is a wonderful piece of machinery, but like any other finely built and high-speed machine it needs some attention. Take advantage of our service.

MAN DROWNS WHILE SWIMMING SHORTLY AFTER JAIL RELEASE

Louis Wurtzbacher, 61, was drowned in Buck Creek, one mile east of the new Springfield pump house, three hours after being released from the Clark County Jail, Wednesday afternoon. Death was pronounced accidental, by Coroner Theodore Schaefer. Wurtzbacher is survived by his wife, from whom he was estranged and who resides in Marion; a brother, George Wurtzbacher, of Springfield and two daughters who reside in Yellow Springs.

Wurtzbacher was released from Clark County Jail about 1 o'clock, Wednesday, on bond of $1,000 to appear for arraignment in Juvenile Court, Thursday, September 4, to answer to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was arrested on the charge Sunday night. After being released from jail he told his landlady he was going swimming. The water was thirteen feet deep where the body was recovered.

COMPANY L IS BACK FROM DRILL PERIOD AT CAMP PERRY OHIO

Company L, 147th Infantry, National Guard, returned Wednesday evening from a fifteen day's stay at Camp Perry, where members engaged in all forms of battle maneuvers, extensive drills of the close order type, and numerous skirmish movements.

The company in charge of Captain Leroy John and First Lieutenant John Berger, has been quartered at Camp Perry with 4,000 other men.

The biggest feature of the closing exercises at the camp was a sham battle in which several thousand men participated. The battle was held at night to make the effect more startling and with the bursting of bombs and cracking of rifles it bordered closely on a real battle. Company L did not take part in the battle.

Company L walked away with a good share of the honors meted out to the individuals and companies.

In the boxing championships, Sergeant Glenn McFadden, boxing in the 130 pound class, won the regimental championship. First Class Private Lester Stephens carried away the regimental 145 pound championship and also fought a draw for the brigade championship. Sergeant Lawrence Davis won the brigade 165 pound championship and was declared champion heavyweight of the camp.

Four men in Company L, Lieutenant John Berger, First Sergeant Ivan Jacobs, Private Edward Reed and Private Ola Wolary won places on the regimental base ball team that afterwards won the brigade championship.

Company L also took second place in the regimental efficiency contest, Company C winning the first place.

Eminent personages reviewed the men while in camp, including General Pershing Governor Vic Donahey and General Bundy.

More honors were won by Lieutenant Clifford Shupp and Corporal Roscoe Whitacre, who are eligible for the state rifle team, which will shoot in the National championships but will not be able to compete.

Company L will take part in the exercises in connection with National ease Day, September 12, it is announced by Captain John. Orders have been issued that the company is to mobilize on that day and take part in the parade that will be staged.

The company has also been unofficially notified that it is to perform guard duty when the National Air Races are held in October.

MODISH MITZI—Mitzi Shows Charming New Jewellry

By Jay V. Jay

The Goofer is saying in this picture, "Mitzi, how odd your earrings are. One is pearl and the other is jet." "Yes," says Mitzi, "quite the newest thing to have them different." And then the Goofer will go on to say how becoming they are . . .

Mitzi is looking out from the corner of her eye at Bill to see the effect of the way she is wearing her new pearl necklace. "Miss Mitzi," says Bill, "I've never seen a necklace that dangled so . . . irresistibly." "Do you like it?" asks Mitzi and then Bill will go on to say how very, much he likes it especially . . . on her.

"My dear," says Dad, "how many bracelets are you wearing and how in the world did you get them all different?" "Oh, yes," says Mitzi, "that is the way one wears bracelets now." The pretty colors are very becoming and Dad will go on to say that Mitzi has such good taste. . . .

And here you see Mitzi thinking. Her brain is a large question mark. "What next?" it asks. And Mitzi doesn't know. All she knows is that it must be new. And therein lies a great deal of Mitzi's charm. If you don't believe it, watch her a while and see.

SAYS MONTGOMERY COUNTY FAIR WILL BE LARGE AFFAIR

Secretary of the Montgomery County Fair, September 1 to 5 says that everything points to one of the biggest fairs ever held in Dayton. Under the speed program $8,000 in purses have been offered and the racing will be under the three-hour plan, with no deductions from money winners. A great number of horsemen have signified their intention of racing at Dayton. In the show horse department a great many of the breeders have already made entries and engaged their stables. There will be a special show on Monday, Labor Day, of polo ponies and saddle horses. Premiums offered for horses amount to $2,000.

In the cattle department numerous breeders have already made entries and engaged stables. The same is true in the sheep and swine departments. The Dayton Fair offers a uniform state classification in all live stock departments with very liberal premiums offered, divided into first, second, and third, premiums. The farm exhibits, grand exhibits and fruit exhibits will be the biggest ever held, and the round exhibition building in which these exhibits are shown has been remodeled to be able to take care of the large display.

The large new exhibition building will be used exclusively for merchants' exhibits. There is now under construction new horse barns. The stock show pavilion building, which was built last year has been filled with dirt and now stalls with show rings, constructed. The Jr. Live Stock Club Work will be exhibited this year in two large tents, 100 x 40 ft. The baby beef steers in the feeding contest will be on exhibition and will be sold at public auction on Friday, Sept. 5th. There is no fair in the State of Ohio that is run exclusively on an educational program as the Dayton Fair.

There will be three free attractions for the public's approval. La Follette endorsed. Cincinnati, Aug. 23.—The local labor council endorsed the candidacies of Senators Robert M. La Follette and Burton K. Wheeler in a joint meeting and pledged its support at the polls.

NEW AIR SPEED KING MAY BE CROWNED WHEN PILOTS GATHER AT WRIGHT FIELD FOR ANNUAL PULITZER RACE CLASSIC OCT. 2, 3 AND 4

Faster than the speediest cannon ball of Civil War days, estimated at 275 miles an hour.

This tremendous speed is predicted for the winner of the Pulitzer high speed trophy race event on the program for the International Air Races at Wilbur Wright Field in Dayton, October 2-4.

With Sadi Leconte, French air ace and holder of the world's altitude record, competing with crack American pilots, representing the U. S. Air Service, for this coveted prize, the precedent of other years is expected to be maintained and a new world's speed record set by the race winner. An added incentive for Leconte to win the race, is the fact that in addition to receiving the $5,000 to be given the winner of the event, he will also receive from the Aero Club of France, 140,000 francs, should he come first. This sum has been offered by the organization to the French flyer who breaks the existing world's speed record. While the foreign entrant will doubtless put forth his best efforts to take the trophy and the speed record back to France with him, he will find keen opposition to doing so, in the persons of Captain Bert Skeel of Selfridge Field, Michigan, winner of the John L. Mitchell trophy race at St. Louis last year, and Lieutenants Alex Pearson and W. H. Brookley of McCook Field, Dayton, also entered in the race and representing the Army Air Service.

As in the cases of all other means of transportation, each year has seen some new invention or improvement in the airplane, which has made for greater speed, most essential in this age of time saving methods.

On November 25, 1920, Lieut. C. C. Moseley, astounded the spectators at the Pulitzer race at Mitchell Field, L. I., when he traveled at the rate of 156 1/2 miles an hour, establishing a new world's speed record.

This mark did not long endure, for on November 8th in the following year, Bert Acosta, civilian, flying a Navy Curtiss racer, set a new record of 176 miles an hour at Omaha, Neb.

His record was boosted again on October 14, 1922 by Lieut. Russell L. Maughan to 205.8 miles an hour at Selfridge Field, Mich., while the present record of 243.67 miles an hour was set by Lieut. Williams, navy flyer at St. Louis, on October 6, 1923.

The Pulitzer high speed trophy race is but one of the 13 speed and efficiency races on the program for the meet, the winners to receive cash and trophy awards of approximately $80,000.

POLICE STATION IS ALL DRESSED UP AND NO PLACE TO GO NOW

No one will be surprised if there is a sudden increase in the number of law violations from now on because with work finished at Police Headquarters, the surroundings are such that no one would object to being confined in the cells for a period of time.

Police headquarters has taken on a new tinge since painting, papering, repairing and calmsoling has been completed. The cells in the men and women's departments have been repainted a bright red color and the old hard pine boards replaced by smooth soft boards of oak. Ceilings and walls have been calmsoling while the floors have also been painted red.

The outer office has also completely changed in appearance, with the repapering of walls and ceiling the addition of new light fixtures and the painting of the doors and windows a light gray color.

Chief of Police M. E. Graham's inner office has been repapered and painted while a small picket gate has been fastened to the door. The gate is there as a menace to intruders and bears a stern warning sign, "Keep Out."

Patrolman Fred Jones has done most of the painting work for the department, working during his vacation and in his spare time.

Are You Tired, Achy— All Run Down?

This Xenia Resident Tells You How to Get Well.

Tired all the time? Lame, stiff and achy? Tortured with nagging backache? Knife-like twinges when you stoop or lift?

Miserable with headaches, dizzy spells and bladder irregularities? All are signs of kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys.

Here's Xenia testimony: Mrs. Hannah A. Reed, 520 W. Second St., says: "My back was weak and at times when I stooped I got sharp pain through it and I could hardly rise again. Mornings I was lame and tired and my back throbbed. My kidneys acted irregularly and caused annoyance. Doan's Pills relieved me of those pains in my back and my kidneys became normal."

Simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Reed had, Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

WORTH IT!

The man in Vermont who ripped the telephone from the wall, drove two miles to town and threw it through the window at the operator after failing to get "central" probably considered the $25 fine as money well spent.

One doesn't have to spend quite so much to get a little satisfaction from the Classifieds. They are a medium that brings service worth a dozen times the price of them and are a saving in time, money and trouble.

A saving here and a saving there through the Classified Ads amounts to a good sum in a year's time.

WOMAN WEAK DIZZY, FAINT

Found Relief in Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Always Recommends It

Bridgeport, Connecticut.—"I was completely run-down, had headaches, dizzy, faint feelings, and other troubles women often have. As I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before, my husband said to take it again. I have now taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine, the Liver Pills, and six boxes of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets. I am feeling very good now and shall continue taking them for a while. I have been telling my cousin about the medicine and she wants to take it, too. I always recommend it."—Mrs. HENRY C. SMITH, R.F.D. No. 3, Box 6, Bridgeport, Conn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved those symptoms by removing the cause of them. Mrs. Smith's experience is but one of many.

In a recent country-wide canvass of purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, over 121,000 replies were received, and 98 per cent. reported they were benefited by its use. For sale by druggists everywhere.

MERCHANTS BOOK TWO GAMES FOR SUNDAY AND MONDAY HERE

The Xenia Merchants base ball team, fresh from its victory over the Zimmerman nine Sunday at Dickerson Park, will stack up against another base ball team of repute Sunday, when it plays the Springfield Independents at Dickerson Park.

The Independents formerly played in the Saturday Afternoon league in Springfield and have only recently commenced playing Sunday base ball. The Merchants will no doubt have to be in their best batting form for Sunday's tussle as their old rival, Kinler, the former twirler of the Springfield Steele Products team has signed a contract with the Independents and will perform on the mound against the locals. Kinler, it will be remembered, hurled his former mates to a 5 to 1 victory over the locals earlier in the

INCREASE IN FARM INCOMES IS GREATLY EXAGGERATED, SAID

Estimates that the recent advance in agricultural produce prices will net farmers of the country $2,000,000 are greatly exaggerated, O. E. Bradfute, of this city, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared in an address in Des Moines, Iowa, this week. The bureau's research department, he said, estimated that the farmers would profit by about a quarter of a billion dollars.

President Bradfute said he believed little of the increased income would get into the channels of commerce this year but would be applied to debts incurred during the period of agricultural depression and to back taxes.

The increase, he said, would be felt chiefly in cotton, tobacco and wheat growing states. "Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky," said Mr. Bradfute, "will show a decreased farm income this year. The entire Middle West will have a smaller income than last year, or the year before. This goes to show that the fight for equal opportunity is not over; that it is just beginning."

YOUTHFUL BURGLAR ORDERED OUT OF TOWN BY POLICE

Joseph Alexander, 18, of Omaha, Nebraska, arrested Tuesday afternoon after a chase in which he eluded police for almost an hour, in connection with petty robberies during the last week, was ordered out of town Wednesday by Police on receipt of the youth's promise to return to his home in Omaha.

The youth admitted robberies and attempts at robberies on several residences on Home Avenue the first of the week, but denied all connection with robberies prior to last Sunday.

MINISTER MAY BE COMMITTEE HEAD

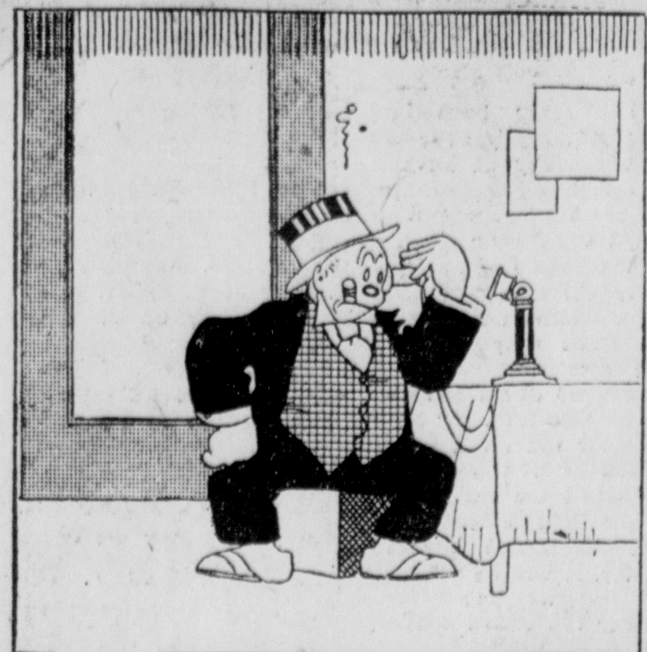

The meeting of the recently appointed Greene County Democratic central committee, scheduled for Saturday, will be held in the assembly room of the Court House at 10 o'clock on that morning.

Indications are that the Rev. A. J. Furstenberger, of this city, will be elected chairman of the committee. The Rev. Mr. Furstenberger, although not a member of the Democratic central committee, was appointed a member of the executive committee at the organization of the central committee in the Court House last week. The date for the organization of the Republican executive committee has not been announced but the organization will probably take place within a week.

Chinese Seized.
Cleveland, Aug. 28.—Nine Chinese were held by police in connection with a threat of death for four officials of the Cleveland On Leong Tong, Chinese merchants' association. The Chinese arrested are said by On Leong Tong officials to be forerunners of the Hip Sing Tong, a rival organization which is seeking to re-establish headquarters here.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

CAMILIA WAITE with two men, BRUCE GILLIAN and STEWART O'BRIEN.

Camilla warns Mary that there is in love with Bruce and that she is to be no poaching on her matrimonial preserves. Camilla realizes that Bruce is much interested in Mary, and plots with O'Brien to prevent his proposing to her. Camilla keeps Bruce from Mary's side at the dance that evening, but late that night Mary goes into the garden for a breath of air, and unexpectedly meets him. He tells her he loves her, asks her to elope with him at once. But O'Brien intervenes.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

VIII—DRIVEN OUT OF PARADISE

IN her own room again, Mary paced the floor restlessly. She dared not go downstairs to the drive to meet Bruce would be sure to there; although she had met him for the first time that day, she knew that he would not hesitate to make it impossible for her to elope with the other man if he possibly could.

Once she snatched up a purple wrap and hurried into the hall; she had reached the head of the stairs when she saw O'Brien below, glancing through one of the magazines that lay on a table. He was standing guard then, to be sure that she did not slip out.

"Oh, I'll go anyway; I don't care!" she cried bitterly. But she knew even as she spoke that she would not go. In those few golden moments with Gillian it has seemed as if she might be free of the morass through which she had stumbled all this last year; now it was sucking her down again.

"I'll explain Bruce in the morning," she promised herself, trying to fight off the tears that threatened to be too much for her. "He'll understand surely. He may even see a way out. He must know that I love him—"

Yet she could not reassure herself. And many of the girls who had envied beautiful Mary Hayward when they saw her photograph in the photograph section of the newspapers, and read of the court that was being paid her at Newport or Palm Beach or Southampton, would have pitied her instead, as she threw herself down on the bed and cried heartbrokenly.

She slept late in the morning; it was nearly eleven when she crossed the terrace where the others sat smoking and looking through the papers.

"Mary, Dee Lewis is marrying the little Wynship girl," announced Camilla with a laugh; then, to the two men, "Dee was a beau of Mary's all winter, but you know how it is—suddenly a man wants to get married; and then—" she waved her hands in the air, laughed again, and bent forward to light a cigarette from the one Gillian was smoking. As she looked up at him through the smoke Mary shivered. He had risen perfunctorily as she joined them, but his eyes had not met hers; he had spared no pains to make her see that he no longer felt as he had the night before.

"He's angry because I didn't come downstairs," Mary told herself wearily. "But when I fall him why he'll understand, and forgive me. Oh, surely he'll see that I couldn't have come, with Stewart O'Brien standing there, ready to make trouble if I came."

O'Brien, lounging in a long chair beside her, was bent on taunting her.

"Have a good night's rest, Mary?" he asked. "You should have—retired early enough! By the way, you and I are to entertain each other today, so you'll have to prepare to be more sociable to me than you are right now!"

"Yes," Camilla spoke nervously in response to Mary's questioning glance. "You see, Bruce has never seen this part of the country before, so I'm going to drive him up to the lodge in my little roadster. We'll be back in time for tea—you can welcome the Mayhews when they come, and the Atwoods; they're sure to be late; they were to lunch with the Kings on the way over from Tarrytown. This is the only chance I'll have to take Bruce about; tomorrow we'll have to be at the horse show, of course, and he's leaving for the West the day after."

Mary said nothing. Her heart was so heavy that it seemed to weigh down her whole body. Could it be possible that for that brief space of time the night before she had been so happy—that he had held her in his arms, had kissed her, and begged her to run away with him and marry him then? "We can be man and wife before dawn," he had said. Oh, if only she had defied O'Brien and gone; things would have turned out right somehow!

But she hadn't defied him, and had let herself be driven out of paradise. Camilla went in for a wrap, and ignoring O'Brien, Mary went over to the parapet where Gillian stood, looking down at the water. In her frock of pale yellow mull she looked very beautiful, but Gillian seemed hardly to see her.

"I could not come last night," she began, her deep low voice faltering over the words. "You see, I—"

"You didn't want to come. I waited there till daylight, before I realized that you had made a fool of me. O'Brien tells me that it's a trick of yours, to string a man along and then drop him. You are clever at it—I bow to you!" Mockingly he bowed low over her hand and kissed it, then strode off across the terrace to join Camilla.

Mary stood quite still, watching him. Camilla was looking especially nice, in her long white coat and smart little hat. And he—he—voluntarily Mary held out her hands to him, unconscious of O'Brien's taunting smile.
